STUDY SESSION

A 25-1092 East Channel Trail Study

Esther Jung, Traffic Engineer, Kevin Chen, Senior Traffic Engineer and Jeffrey Knowles, Planning Group Director from Alta Planning + Design, gave a presentation. Highlighting the following:

- Project Overview
- Community Engagement Summary
- Alternative Analysis
- Next Steps

Commissioner Mehlman asked about the following:

- Why Eagle Drive was selected over Mariani Drive
- Regarding the bicycle-pedestrian bridge - whether there would be issues relating to elevations over the residential neighborhoods
- Whether there is enough public right-of-way space for a bicycle-pedestrian bridge
- Why Fair Oaks Avenue was selected when assessing on-street alternatives

Mr. Knowles responded.

Commissioner Bonne asked about the following:

- If the off-street paths that cross impassable roads such as highways are meant to provide guidance to cyclists and pedestrians
- If the City is planning to figure out the cost and design needed to actually build these off-street paths
- How the different options compare to a future where the trail is built in pieces and connected by short off-street paths
- Cost comparison, speed of implementation and long-term durability of the alternatives to the paved trail being considered

Mr. Knowles responded.

Commissioner Hafeman asked about the following:

- Trail conditions in regards to flood durability
- Whether private property owners were contacted regarding interest in granting right-of-way
- Order of priorities and determining where the public would get the most value

Mr. Knowles responded.

Vice Chair Beagle asked about the following:

- What needs to be done to open as much as possible, as soon as possible
- Whether staff has explored potential grants to complete any of the work
- Whether the channel shown on slide 12 is an easement of Santa Clara Valley Water

- (On slide 13) Whether an at-grade crossing being too close to Fair Oaks Avenue is a concern
- Whether the proposed Evelyn Avenue Multi-use Trail extends as far as East Channel along Evelyn Avenue as shown on slide 14
- (On slides 15 and 16) Whether it was looked into that pedestrians keep using Route B to connect directly to the next section along Fair Oaks Avenue
- Why High-intensity Activated crossWalks (HAWKs) are preferred over regular signals
- What "sharing priority" means
- (On slide 20) Whether it'd be feasible to have a separated bike lane within the raised crosswalk

Ms. Jung, Mr. Chen and Mr. Knowles responded.

Commissioner Gollakota asked about the following:

- Whether any sections have been identified where there will be maximum use for any particular reason

Mr. Knowles responded.

Commissioner Mehlman asked about the following:

- Whether there is an idea of the assessment in terms of the risk for flooding for the Kifer Road to Arques Avenue section (slide 15)
- (Referencing slide 21) Whether a full traffic signal could be warranted instead of a HAWK at bicycle/pedestrian crossings despite the absence of a vehicle cross street

Mr. Knowles responded.

Chair Wilson asked about the following:

- (Slide 12) Whether the goal is to enable people on the trail to go to Homestead Road once the channel goes underground
- Whether it would still be necessary to build a bridge if the land from Crescent Avenue to Iris Avenue was purchased
- If there are any cost estimates for the proposed suggestions

Mr. Knowles responded.

Public Comment opened at 7:53 p.m.

Sharlene Liu, member of the public, commented on the following:

- Likes the idea of protected intersections and bike lanes

- Prefers a bridge over an at-grade crossing

Public Comment closed at 7:57 p.m.

Vice Chair Beagle commented on the following:

- Open as much as possible as early as possible
- Doesn't have preference on path material

- Would prefer an at-grade crossing over a bridge for the El Camino Real section if the City can get that land at a reasonable cost
- Would like to see a raised crosswalk at every crossing possible
- Has a strong preference for regular signalized crossings over HAWKs

Commissioner Mehlman commented on the following:

- The need to prioritize the connection between north and central Sunnyvale
- Believes that all Tier 1 crossings should be elevated whether striped or not
- Signalized intersections should be activated hands free
- Prefers paving over gravel

- Preferred replacement of the pedestrian bridge over US 101

Commissioner Hafeman commented on the following:

- Believes project should be in segments and studied as part of public outreach
- Emphasized phased prioritization methodology so the project does not consume excessive transportation dollars at the expense of other needed projects
