

Sunnyvale

Active Transportation Plan Progress and Reporting Update

Jose Palma, Active Transportation Planner
November 18, 2025

New City Staff – Jose Palma, Active Transportation Planner

How Was This Position Created?

- Budget Proposal No. 2024-01 - Hire an Active Transportation Planner
 - ◆ Sponsored by BPAC in 2023
 - ◆ Approved by City Council as part of the FY24/25 Budget Adoption
 - ◆ To create a new, permanent, full-time Active Transportation Planner position

Why Was This Position Created?

- To be responsive to Council's Strategic Priorities
 - ◆ A Sustainable City: Advancing Climate Action, Active Transportation and the Vision Zero Plan
- To accelerate the implementation of the ATP

New City Staff – Jose Palma, Active Transportation Planner

About me ...

◆ Personal Introduction

- I am multi-modal commuter

◆ Professional Background

- SRTS experience with Palo Alto
- Transportation consulting experience

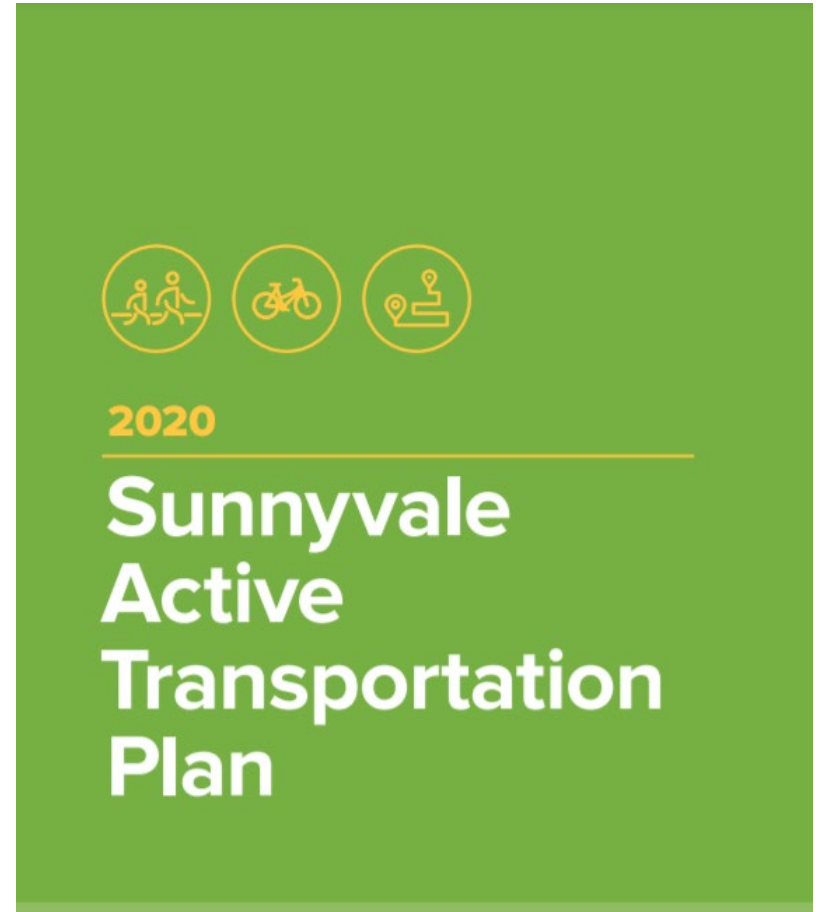

◆ Skills and Interest

- Bike and Pedestrian infrastructure planning
- Making Sunnyvale a more walkable and bikeable place
- Certified - League Cycling Instructor (LCI)

Goals for the City Council Study Session

- Introduction - Active Transportation Planner
- ATP Progress Reporting:
Preview of the Online Map
- Share Next Steps

AUGUST 2020

Active Transportation Plan Progress and Reporting

Active Transportation Plan Progress and Reporting

What is the Active Transportation Plan?

- Adopted by City Council on Aug. 25, 2020 (5 years ago)
- BPAC and the public expressed interests in tracking the progress made
- Staff reviewed how other cities share their ATP progress
 - ◆ Decided to share this information through an online map

Next Steps

Next Steps

Enhance Reporting & Communication

- Increase Transparency: Display in-progress projects by phase
 - ◆ Planning, Design, Construction phase
- Track Progress: Include Pedestrian and SRTS improvements
- Expand Data: Add statistics on bicycle facility by types
- Living Document: BETA Version

Thank you!