(Butcher's Corner)

Mrs. Blizinski presented the report.

Comm. Dietrich confirmed that the property had been sold by the Butcher family.

Comm. Michitaka asked if the property owner is responsible for the health of the trees on the site.

Chair Squellati expressed some concern for tree #106 (per the Arborist report for the Butcher's Corner Draft Environmental Impact Report).

Planning Officer Andrew Miner discussed the difference between natural resources and heritage resources with the Commissioners. He also reminded the Commission that their purview is to determine if the trees meet certain historic criteria and are not just natural resource to the City.

Chair Squellati opened the public hearing.

Denise DeLang noted her support to save the trees and nominate them as heritage resources.

Donald Kirker, spoke in support to save the trees on the Butcher's Corner property. He noted that the City was once called Encinal, which he believes is in reference to the Live Oak trees that were prominent to early Sunnyvale history.

Martin Landzaat, spoke in favor to save the Valley Oak Tree on the Butcher's Corner property.

Deborah Marks, SUFA, Sunnyvale Urban Forest Advocates, noted her support to Comm. Valenzuela noted that tree #106 of the arborist report is his main consideration.
