Personnel Board: I am a lawyer by training. I can contribute to enforcing and administering municipal guidelines, and rules and procedures related to personnel administration. Personnel management is an important city function and I want to assist the city in carrying out its duties. If this role requires educating self on administrative/municipal laws, I'm glad to do it.

Bicycle & Pedestrian Advisory Commission: I was a pedestrian for most of my life and used either public transportation or my bike to get to places. But over time I became fully car dependent. Then I moved to the Netherlands for 6 months and began biking again. There I saw firsthand how public initiatives can make a major difference in the manner in which we perceive biking as primary way of life, even in adulthood. During those months, I was in my best mental and physical form. After returning, I struggle to ride by bike for extended distance for fear of safety. I am interested in contributing to the City's initiatives to improve and facilitate safe walking and safe biking for individuals and families.

I can facilitate Board meetings, draft correspondence for city officials, and ensure due process rights as guaranteed by the City.

Bicycle & Pedestrian Advisory Commission: I can facilitate meetings, take down minutes, research on planning issues, and meet with community stakeholders to understand resident concerns. I personally understand the challenges of being a pedestrian and bicyclist in Sunnyvale, and can share my own concerns.

Arts: I can visit schools and offices to rally children and adults to participate in city arts projects. I can talk to community stakeholders and meet our neighboring cities to collaborate on joint programs. I would try to get preschools involved. I lived in NYC and developed a strong interest in theater. I am a member of the de Young museum, the Legion of Honor, and the MET in NYC.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. I will consult appropriate city officials for information and guidance, when necessary. I will read the City of Sunnyvale's Charter, if needed. Additionally, I will make sure that the Board records all decisions, maintains deliberations confidentiality as appropriate, consults appropriate stakeholders to arrive at fair decisions, and keeps the wellbeing and future of the City of Sunnyvale in mind at all times. SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTIONNAIRE

Note: Please respond only to questions that pertain to your selected board(s) or commission(s).

Arts Commission

1. In what ways could the City strengthen art programs in the community?

Performing arts: The city could promote the Children and Youth theater in preschools, private schools, through downtown businesses, and the public library. e.g. post more flyers at businesses in downtown. The City could also advertise upcoming performances in neighboring cities. It would raise more awareness for Sunnyvale's youth theater and get more children to audition and attend.

Art & sculptures in public places: The City can display art and sculptures in public places in the city. Perhaps a statute in the newly created park in downtown Sunnyvale (across from Target), maybe a mosaic outside City Hall, and so forth.

Preschools: The City could hosting an art day for preschools in Sunnyvale. Most preschools devote time on arts & crafts for their young creative thinkers. The City could make it an event e.g. Sunnyvale City Preschool Art Day, or Arts Awareness Week etc. Preschoolers' art can be displayed at City Hall, in the public library, or elementary schools.

Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Commission

2. Like many cities in Santa Clara County, Sunnyvale is faced with problems stemming from traffic congestion and air pollution. Suggest ways the City can improve facilities for bicyclists and improve bicycling education and safety programs for motorists, cyclists and pedestrians?

In an ideal world, I would love to see permanent dividers between bike lanes and car lanes so there is no interaction between bicyclists and motorists. This would increase safety and drive up confidence in bikers, esp. children.

As a bicyclist and motorist, I would find it very useful if the City hosted regular events on road sharing rules. Or perhaps create a road sharing guide and upload it on the City's website.

I bought my bicycle in 2012. It was a 6-month project, going from store to store to find a decent, affordable bicycle. I was not looking to trek mountains or spend $1000 on fancy Silicon Valley gear. As public awareness, I would be great if the City can create and share a directory of local stores to help the public buy basic, sturdy, affordable bikes.

10. Please describe your experience and responsibilities in the administration of employee discipline.

As previously stated, I am an attorney and understand the nature of administrative law, employment law, and disciplinary procedures. I can interpret rules and research on legal issues, if required.

In 2008-2009, I worked as research assistant on a treatise focusing on public inquiry commissions in Canada. The book titled, "The Conduct of Public Inquiries: Law, Policy, Practice" covered in-depth information on public sector employees' rights and responsibilities. As research assistant on that book, I learned about departmental investigations, informal inquiries, department hearings and appeals, the role of commissioners and counsel, public versus private investigations, due process rights accorded to the accused, and the complainant. I believe that this experience and my basic legal training will help me in carrying duties required from members of the Personnel Board.

Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Commission

2. Like many cities in Santa Clara County, Sunnyvale is faced with problems stemming from traffic congestion and air pollution. Suggest ways the City can improve facilities for bicyclists and improve bicycling education and safety programs for motorists, cyclists and pedestrians?

Some of my guiding principles:

- Use affordances over rules whenever possible. Create incentives to change behaviour, not rules. Example: Narrower roads with bike lane is much more effective at slowing down traffic than speed limits
- Use data when available, and experience when not. Example: Where do bikers need to go? Which transit routes are unfilled? Which improvements are highest impact?

Some smaller, specific suggestions:

- Allow bikes to roll through stop signs when done safely.
- Allow bikes on sidewalks in areas with no pedestrians and no safe bike lanes
- Add pedestrian/bike passes through areas designed to keep out cars
- Move street-side parking to the other side of the bike lane on certain streets

7. What motivated you to apply for this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

Ever since I was a child, I was immersed in the arts. This is thanks to my early education at Sunnyvale's own Cherry Chase Elementary. I remember these formative years spent in an art integrated curriculum fondly. In addition, my mother who is Bay Area muralist was busy painting across the city. I went to piano lessons and studied ballet with local Sunnyvale artists growing up. These formative experiences translated into my higher studies and broader career. My love for the arts was fostered in Sunnyvale. Now at age 27, I've lived in India, China and across the US only to come back to my hometown. I am looking to give back to this community that shaped the person that I am today.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

In college, I did in-depth research on the political economy of arts funding. This work translated into my first job in the policy department at American for the Arts in Washington, DC. I was fortunate to make connections in the arts advocacy space that have served me well. During this time I led a group of advocates to speak with Senator Dianne Feinstein and other representatives on the hill about the importance of the arts in my community. When I was serving with the Peace Corps in China I was able to plan a piano concert series and an international e-commerce and craft conference. Back in San Francisco, I was recruited as an organizer with 50+1 Strategies to lead expert engagement for the Yes on S campaign which brought together a diverse coalition of artists, arts organizations, and homelessness prevention groups led by Jonathan Moscone. This exposure to local nonprofits and programs, paired with my understanding of both the national and global art landscape equips me with knowledge of all the ways the culture work can impact a city. My network will also be incredibly valuable to the efforts of the commission.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. With this in mind, what steps would you take to effectively exercise this specific board or commission role? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

My role on the commission will be focused on aligning our arts and culture strategy with larger city initiatives. My expertise lies in operationalizing support for culture and tracking the return on investment when integrated into fields like environmental health, urban revitalization, and development, education, healthcare etc. My approach will be to review existing study issues and see if creative approaches might be used to push these forward. The benefit of leveraging the study issue process and ranking is that it involves public review, which is a great avenue to collect input. I was involved with a few of the Public Art Master Plan community outreach meetings with Trenton Hill, Kirstin Dance, and the Cultural Planning Group. Projects like the Washington Pool and the Branch Library at Lakewood Columbia Neighborhood have ample scope for added arts involvement. Additionally, the percent for art programs to beautify local developments are valuable sources of support. More broadly I believe that Sunnyvale has the power to position itself and generate strategic discussions about the arts culture and society.

10. Education: List college degrees and majors, and any relevant training or experience that demonstrates your ability to effectively serve on this board or commission. If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

Masters in Data, Economics, and Development Policy at MITx (In Progress)

Leadership Sunnyvale (Completed 2018)

Creative Community Fellows Program at the University of Pennsylvania with National Arts Strategies (Completed 2016)

Bachelors of Arts in Economics and Dance from Sarah Lawrence College (Completed 2013)

Additionally, I was a mentee of Marete Wester, Sr Director of Arts Policy at Americans for the Arts and John Ferguson, Executive Director at American Voices.

11. Briefly describe your current or last occupation.

Currently, I work as a Community Engagement Lead at Accela, Inc a software company that offers cloud-based solutions to government agencies of all sizes. My work involved designing, building, and managing digital experiences for employees at over 2300 government agencies to share successes, learn from one another, and access resources. I have strong ties with the innovation ecosystem and the business community in Silicon Valley. Previously I managed community engagement at a startup incubator and disruption consulting firm called Singularity University founded by Peter Diamandis and Ray Kurzweil.

My expertise in the arts can impact all spheres of city life and operations. We often forget to invite artists and designers to the table. The value of this engagement is demonstrated in the Innovate Climate Action in Sunnyvale OpenIDEO challenge that I helped convene with Nupur Hiremath and Scott Shigeoka. In my work, I am committed to representing youth and the myriad of cultures and professions that make Sunnyvale so unique.

12. Have you attended a City Council, board or commission meeting? If so, please describe what you learned and what improvements you would suggest the City consider.

Working with IDEO I was involved in designing and attended several Climate Action Plan Committee meetings. This involved doing in-depth research on the Brown Act compliance and clarity on protocols around how committee members should interact with one another digitally and in person. Additionally, I've attended meetings related to development, traffic, environment and therefore understand the process of public comment and voting that take place. Earlier this year I graduated from Leadership Sunnyvale and gained exposure to all aspects of civic life in Sunnyvale. This also means that I have a clear sense of who the main actors in the city are and understand what is important to them. As part of my Leadership Sunnyvale, I worked with a fellow leader at Google real estate to develop a playbook to improve border community access to public meetings and would be happy to share our findings with the Committee. We also worked with Dhiren Gandhi to help grow the digital art archive for Sunnyvale.

13. Describe your involvement in community activities, volunteer and civic organizations.

As a resident who lives in Ponderosa Park, I am serving as Communications Director on the Executive Board of the Democratic Club of Sunnyvale. I am also involved with Sunnyvale Sister City Association and will be hosting a visitor from Izuka, Japan later this month at my home and showing her around town. I have been actively involved in planning the Trans and Friends Rally at Silicon Valley Pride and was able to secure corporate support for the event from Sephora. I'm a frequent volunteer at Sunnyvale Community Services and have been teaching with Kids and Art, a non-profit that provides arts activities to children battling cancer. Earlier this year, I mentored a young refugee from Guatemala with At Home Humanitarian. I am a classically trained ballet dancer and take classes two times a week to keep up my technique.

SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTIONNAIRE

Note: Please respond only to questions that pertain to your selected board(s) or commission(s).

Arts Commission

1. In what ways could the City strengthen art programs in the community?

There is scope to integrate arts programming into all the ways the city operates. This mindset will grow Sunnyvale's excellence in the following areas (1) Economic Development and Vibrancy (2) Gender Equality and Awareness (3) STEAM Education (4) and Engagement in International Diplomacy. At a high level, arts and cultural organizations pump an estimated $63.8 billion into the nation's economy. The creative industries and tourism are on the rise in Silicon Valley and we would benefit from initiatives that bridge the arts and business community. My vision would be to work with Connie Verceles to convene an Arts and Business Council. Love existing initiatives like the summer music series and hope to grow involvement with the Sunnyvale Historical Society in helping us look back to shape our future. Working with Ken Yeager and the Santa Clara County Office of LGBT Affairs on programming for these communities would be important. Nancy Smiths Youth Leadership Council would be valuable to engage in convening an art career fair. I will continue to grow the sister city program in Sunnyvale's focus on the arts and cultural diplomacy. Leveraging the work of Jennifer Garnett and official city communications channels and my expertise in digital communications I'd like to grow the visibility of efforts like the sustainability poster competition that Nupur and her team convenes, among others.

7. What motivated you to apply for this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I am applying for BPAC because I'm a cyclist. I've cycled quite a bit in Sunnyvale, I tremendously enjoy our Bay Trail, but I've also been frustrated by the disconnectedness of our bike network. I'd like to work to make cycling safer and more convenient in our city.

I am applying for the Heritage commission because I feel that Sunnyvale's history is obscured for too many of our residents. The great myth of Silicon Valley is that we are a place without a history, the place where everyone can come to forge their own future, unencumbered by the past. In reality, our region has a rich and important history, going back to the Native peoples who once inhabited this land. That past shapes our present and our future.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I have a master's degree in history. As such I've learned how to research the past, to find stories that need to be told, and to understand the ways in which we can consider our past to better determine our future. My background as an engineer also leaves me well suited to consider our more recent heritage pertaining to the electronics and technology industries.

For BPAC, I've lived and worked in the Moffett Park area, and cycle there frequently. With Google planning a major development there, I feel like I'd have valuable feedback on issues pertaining to bicycle and pedestrian safety.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. With this in mind, what steps would you take to effectively exercise this specific board or commission role? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

First, as with any commission, it's important to read the packet and carefully consider any staff recommendations. Furthermore, as a member of either Heritage or BPAC, I would want to personally visit any sites brought to our board, and to do whatever research I can to learn about their historical significance. This might include consultation with the Heritage Museum, with city records, or with other residents.

10. Education: List college degrees and majors, and any relevant training or experience that demonstrates your ability to effectively serve on this board or commission. If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

11. Briefly describe your current or last occupation.

I am currently a software engineer working for Dropbox in San Francisco.

12. Have you attended a City Council, board or commission meeting? If so, please describe what you learned and what improvements you would suggest the City consider.

I have attended and spoken at numerous city council meetings as a private citizen, typically speaking on issues pertaining to housing and transportation. I also served on the Charter Review Commission earlier this year, where I helped to draft the proposed Charter Amendment on filling vacancies, contributed to the final report, and built a web app to help explain the current system: <https://sunnyvale-election-calculator.firebaseio.com/>.

13. Describe your involvement in community activities, volunteer and civic organizations.

I am a member of the Steering Committee of Livable Sunnyvale, a grassroots volunteer organization advocating for more affordable housing and better transportation. I also serve on the Executive Board of the Democratic Club of Sunnyvale as Director at Large. I am primarily engaged in activism around housing and transportation.

SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTIONNAIRE

Note: Please respond only to questions that pertain to your selected board(s) or commission(s).

Arts Commission

1. In what ways could the City strengthen art programs in the community?

Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Commission

2. Like many cities in Santa Clara County, Sunnyvale is faced with problems stemming from traffic congestion and air pollution. Suggest ways the City can improve facilities for bicyclists and improve bicycling education and safety programs for motorists, cyclists and pedestrians?

Sunnyvale has a number of disconnections in our bike network, where cyclists are required to merge with traffic. An example of this is Sunnyvale Ave. north of the Caltrain tracks. These breaks discourage cycling. They especially discourage families from taking their children cycling, which is important in the long run, as children who cycle will eventually become adults who understand that cycling is a real transportation option.

We should be working with major employers like LinkedIn, Apple, and Google to promote employee cycling programs. Adding bike lanes--especially protected bike lanes--to facilitate safe commuting to these major employers could prove very helpful.

Borregas / Sunnyvale-Saratoga is a key area to focus on improving bicycle and pedestrian safety, as it runs from Baylands, across 101 and 237, past Bishop Elementary, past our revitalized downtown, all the way down to the Cupertino border and the old Apple Campus. One important change here would be to extend bike lane coverage on Sunnyvale north of Evelyn to Bishop Elementary, in coordination with a safe routes to school program. A bicycle pedestrian underpass at the Caltrain/Sunnyvale crossing would also be hugely valuable.

Board of Building Code Appeals

3. What do you think can be done to assure that the City of Sunnyvale building development standards are consistently applied?

Board of Library Trustees

4. Community demographics and technology are constantly changing. What do you think are the principal issues the Sunnyvale Public Library may be addressing over the next few years?

Heritage Preservation Commission

5. What historical features or structures in our community do you think are at risk? What course can the City take to preserve them?

My greatest concern is with our written and oral history. The history of Sunnyvale's growth and development, how we got to where we are today, is hugely important. That history can inform our citizens and leaders when they're faced with tough questions about the future of our city, but to do that it needs to be accessible. Digitizing records and providing web resources about our city's history and heritage would be very valuable.

In terms of structures, I am concerned at the possibility of historic homes--Craftsman's and Eichlers, in particular--being replaced with so-called "McMansions"--large, expensive homes typically not in architectural harmony with their surroundings.

Lastly, there is the Old Olson Cherry Orchard near the tennis courts at Mathilda and El Camino. One of the last orchards in our city, it occupies a small site near Sunnyvale parkland. In the event that the owners should decide to sell, I would hope that the city would prioritize acquiring this land and combining it with Las Palmas Park.

6. What factors would influence your recommendation to preserve a particular building or site?

One needs to consider the aesthetic and historic value of the site. It may be cliché to say that cities are living organisms, but the metaphor is valid. Cities change constantly. Not everything can or should be preserved. So, why is the site in question interesting? What happened there? What does it say about our past? What would we lose if it were demolished or built over? Is it particularly aesthetically pleasing? The Onizuka blue cube was here for decades, but no one would seriously have considered it a candidate for historic preservation. On the other hand, the airship hangars on Moffett Field (not, of course, part of Sunnyvale, but still a valuable example) are iconic, despite not being particularly aesthetic structures. Finally, even if the site cannot be preserved, we can still include plaques and photographs to indicate its importance and past uses.

I am a student and professional musician, so I have always had a strong interest in music and the arts. I have wanted to become more involved in my community and with my particular gifting, I feel this would be a great way for me to serve Sunnyvale in a practical way.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I have been involved in the performing arts since high school and college. I have performed in concerts, musicals and a variety of private and public venues. I also believe my long involvement with and understanding of those involved in the arts would be beneficial to serving on the Arts Commission Board.

If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I think it would wise to gather feedback from the residents as to what their interests are regarding the arts and what they would like to see offered and endorsed by the city.

Whatever the city offers in the way of events or decoration should reflect art and music from a purely artistic perspective and not to advance a particular social or political agenda. I would want suggest to the council, only the type of events and celebrations that are positive, uplifting to the residents and truly artistic in nature.

7. What motivated you to apply for this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I care deeply about making housing work better for all people in the community. I am a member of the new Sunnyvale Tenants Union, as well as several other organizations with a focus on housing, such as Liveable Sunnyvale. I tend to think that a tenant's perspective can be lacking in our city processes: homeowners just have so much more time and resources, that their voice tends to be the only thing heard.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I am motivated and attempt to be knowledgeable about issues including tenant protections and supply-side issues, and I am ready and positioned to listen to the community of renters in Sunnyvale to better understand how the city could be better serving them.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. With this in mind, what steps would you take to effectively exercise this specific board or commission role? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I would hope to be a liaison to work with tenants (both within SVTU and without) to better understand how tenant protections would work for them, what they're asking for, and what they may wish to know from Council.

10. Education: List college degrees and majors, and any relevant training or experience that demonstrates your ability to effectively serve on this board or commission. If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

Bachelors: structural engineering and mathematics, Vanderbilt University 2004-2008

Masters (unfinished PhD): structural engineering, Stanford University 2008-2014

11. Briefly describe your current or last occupation.

Software Engineer, Google. 2015-present

12. Have you attended a City Council, board or commission meeting? If so, please describe what you learned and what improvements you would suggest the City consider.

I have been attending city council meetings throughout the Peninsula for some time, primarily the Palo Alto City Council (due its proximity to Stanford).

I've spoken to, and have listened for far more sessions of, the Sunnyvale City Council.

What I tend to see throughout all these city councils are an inherent bias towards homeowner concerns, which, while valid, can crowd out the less tangible concerns of renters in our communities, both in regard to protections, and for the creation of better alternatives.

I see a lot of behavior which is perfectly rational for current residents, but which often works as zero-sum fighting between neighboring cities, working towards a global failure. City Council looks at issues from a perspective of what they can control, but often the issues are actually far more regional.

13. Describe your involvement in community activities, volunteer and civic organizations.

I've been involved at KZSU, Stanford Radio, since 2009. I'm currently hosting a radio program talking to housing activists throughout the Bay Area and beyond (seethecat.org contains episodes).

Sunnyvale Tenants Union is a new project I am involved with, which coaligns with the membership of the Silicon Valley DSA housing working group, of which I am also a member.

Since Livable Sunnyvale has created an affordable housing committee earlier this year, I have been a member. In addition, I also am a member of South Bay YIMBY.

I try to drive towards cross-pollination of these groups, and work towards a positive and mutually agreeable consensus for housing reform.

I also attend the Palo Alto Friends Meeting (Quakers), and am looking to become more involved with their social outreach.

14. The City has a Code of Ethics and Conduct for Elected and Appointed Officials and an attendance policy that appointed members are required to follow. Do you have any concerns in these two areas? If so, please describe. (You may obtain a copy of these policies on the City Web site or from the Office of the City Clerk (408) 730-7595, TDD (408) 730-7501.)

I have no concerns.

Housing and Human Services Commission

7. Evaluate the quality and adequacy of the housing programs that serve the Sunnyvale community.

I think the quantity of affordable housing is quite simply, deficient. The market rate is now out of reach to most people, and the queue for BMR is (as it is most places) not a realistic option for most people.

I think this is especially galling in the light of ever-rising homeowner equity in their property values, and really speaks to a need to truly invest more into the creation of more affordable units.

I think that when residents are placed into a vulnerable position, as in the case of recent evictions, they lack many good alternatives and support.

8. Evaluate the quality and availability of the human services programs that serve the Sunnyvale community.

I do not have as much direct experience with this, but I have not heard any negative feedback about these human services.

5. What historical features or structures in our community do you think are at risk? What course can the City take to preserve them?

I have been saddened to watch what is left of the Garden Valley be unearthed and replaced with buildings. I realize that land is scarce, and people need homes to live in and businesses to work at/patronize. I like to think there is a way to preserve some of these agricultural areas and open spaces.

I also see older homes/buildings in disrepair. Since these are likely privately owned, there must be some incentive the city can offer to encourage owners to repair and maintain these structures.

7. What motivated you to apply for this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

As a resident and member of the community of over 53 years, I'd like to see if I can help preserve Sunnyvale, but also help make it a great place to live based on relevant improvements to both historical landmarks, structures, residential and commercial buildings where applicable. I grew up running and playing in the orchards of Sunnyvale and have seen so much change. I welcome change when, but not at the expense of safety and not at the expense of losing Sunnyvale's residential appeal and potential charm.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I've been a resident in Sunnyvale my whole life and want to continue living here with my family. My wife and son are also life long residents of Sunnyvale as we wish to continue that path. I've coached Sunnyvale Little League for several seasons, played and helping with my son's team in District 44 AYSO soccer and have volunteered for several positions at Cumberland Elementary in the classrooms as well as on the PTA. I love the community and hope to continue to be part of it for many more years. Sunnyvale is my home and living here for the past 53 years is also part of my skillset as I've been able to pass on my knowledge to many of the diverse families within my community.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. With this in mind, what steps would you take to effectively exercise this specific board or commission role? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

My interest would be to familiarize myself with any policy issues and how those issues apply to all relevant historical subjects that come before the Historical Commission. Furthermore, my goal would be make whatever historical subject in question is safe and to determine if it's truly historical based any facts and studies then how it would apply to the community if it can be made more useful. Furthermore, my primary concern is more family friendly in nature and how it can complement the community as well as for the property owner.

10. Education: List college degrees and majors, and any relevant training or experience that demonstrates your ability to effectively serve on this board or commission. If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I have worked with many local companies including Apple, Yahoo (Oath), Intel, LinkedIn, Facebook, HP and several more. My skillset is such that I've been able to work with many departments, organizations, cultures and levels of management to come to win-win solutions.

11. Briefly describe your current or last occupation.

12. Have you attended a City Council, board or commission meeting? If so, please describe what you learned and what improvements you would suggest the City consider.

I did attend the last Historical Commission meeting as I was one being considered to remove my property from the Heritage inventory. I want to help make that a reality moving forward.

SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTIONNAIRE

Note: Please respond only to questions that pertain to your selected board(s) or commission(s).

Arts Commission

1. In what ways could the City strengthen art programs in the community?

Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Commission

2. Like many cities in Santa Clara County, Sunnyvale is faced with problems stemming from traffic congestion and air pollution. Suggest ways the City can improve facilities for bicyclists and improve bicycling education and safety programs for motorists, cyclists and pedestrians?

Board of Building Code Appeals

3. What do you think can be done to assure that the City of Sunnyvale building development standards are consistently applied?

Board of Library Trustees

4. Community demographics and technology are constantly changing. What do you think are the principal issues the Sunnyvale Public Library may be addressing over the next few years?

Heritage Preservation Commission

5. What historical features or structures in our community do you think are at risk? What course can the City take to preserve them?

Olsen's Cherry store on El Camino has recently announced their closing, but I feel we need to somehow maintain the building to remember once was there. I'm not sure what can be done, but if there is something that can be done to preserve it with something relevant to the heritage then that should be a consideration for the next vendor in that location.

Mellow's Nursery House on Mathilda- This is a beautiful structure that has been restored. I'm not sure if the location is suitable for structure or if it should be considered to be moved to another location such that they people could enjoy it's historical charm vs. it being used as a commercial building. Possibly a location near the last working orchards as the Murphy House was replicated. If it was to be moved there or another suitable city location, then it could be a great addition to our historical buildings and museum by the community center.

The remaining Orchard's and Parks all seem to be historical to me since I grew up in them and love to hear stories of other locals that have done the same. I'd like to see more attention put back into the parks and orchards to restore what they once were. Serra Park and Las Palmas Parks have all seem to be missing their old appeal and some of the structures seem to also create some danger to the children that should be addressed with the parks department

6. What factors would influence your recommendation to preserve a particular building or site?

The factors that would influence my recommendation would be it's historical significance to the city. If there was an event or someone that was significant to the structure then that would have to be considered by the commission as to it's relevancy. For example, if Steve Jobs and Steve Wozniak invented their first computer in a garage of Sunnyvale then we'd need to consider that as historical significance to the city and not to remove the structure nor make any unnecessary modifications.

Housing and Human Services Commission

7. Evaluate the quality and adequacy of the housing programs that serve the Sunnyvale community.

8. Evaluate the quality and availability of the human services programs that serve the Sunnyvale community.

7. What motivated you to apply for this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

So far, my career has focused on software and global solutions for bringing together education and entertainment. A few years ago, we purchased a house in Sunnyvale and have grown to love the city as we've settled in. With such a fascinating blend of demographics in Sunnyvale, I'd love the chance to learn more about the particular needs we have locally and what opportunities there are to bring creative enhancements to the recreational offerings around me.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I am a very methodical researcher who loves to probe deep into the pros and cons of different options. Furthermore, I recognize the importance of being patient and empathetic when then consulting with a group on how to weigh different options, striving for unity in making a decision rather than simply overpowering the concerns of others. I have a strong technical background and can accurately evaluate the merits of any cutting-edge solutions, while also having an academic background and appreciation for the arts & humanities in keeping broader perspectives.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. With this in mind, what steps would you take to effectively exercise this specific board or commission role? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I would take the time to listen to all the concerns being raised and identify areas most in need of attention. Only after carefully learning about all the relevant information, would I then synthesize objective reports and make additional recommendations for improvement.

13. Describe your involvement in community activities, volunteer and civic organizations.

I offer assistance to a Jr. Youth Spiritual Empowerment group that meets with youth from low-income neighborhoods and facilitates discussions between them about whatever spiritual traditions their families subscribe to, what aspects appeal or don't appeal to them personally and to reflect on how they want to contribute to their community. I host meetup events at my house facilitating similar discussions for young professionals (<https://www.meetup.com/Spiritually-minded-young-professionals/>). Previously I worked at after-school centers in Boston, working with educational video games and teaching computer programming / media. I facilitated a dance group teaching youth expression and portrayal of social issues through the use of interpretive dance.

Park and Recreation Commission

9. Community demographics are constantly changing. What do you think are the principal issues this Commission may be addressing over the next few years?

People mistakenly consider recreation as a necessary indulgence people need as a break from the 'real' learning and growth that happens in places like a school. But, recreation is often provides some of the most formative and edificial experiences of one's life: Consider a child in one part of Sunnyvale who gets off of school at 3pm. This first child then goes to a coding camp where she meets with friends and learns skills to communicate in the digital age. She then goes to painting classes and learns to express herself before heading home for dinner. A second child in a poorer neighborhood of Sunnyvale is instructed to go home and wait until her parents can make it home from work.

In this scenario, no matter how strong a school system we have in place, if we neglect what happens to the second child after school, we miss out on one of the best opportunities for deciding a child's future and instead leave them to the influence of gangs and other options. If, however, she were to find out about interesting programs at the library, positive neighborhood youth groups or other activities, the impact on her path could be life altering.

This is particularly challenging in Sunnyvale where we have extraordinary variations in wealth and poverty, racial and cultural backgrounds. Without careful planning and forethought, the natural outcome will likely be a very divided set of experiences where each person naturally follows whatever commercial interests are available for their socio-economic background. However, we have the opportunity to devise experiences that unite and lift the community as a whole.

While the above illustrates an extreme scenario of two high-school students, any recreation planning decision has the possibility to profoundly impact lives. Seemingly simple decisions about a playground can determine if a child with a disability feels empowered or excluded, whether a child learns to follow a prescribed play path or is encouraged to create their own experiences.

Month June Year 20186. Are you currently serving or have you served on a City of Sunnyvale board or commission? NoIf yes, which one? _____ Term currently serving _____
_____ Term previously served _____

7. What motivated you to apply for this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I have a deep interest in human resource practices and in rigorous academic study of HR. I am studying for a PhD in management (expected 2020, dissertation phase) and the focus of my work is workforce and labor issues in high-growth firms. In practice, I have managed federal government personnel across cultures on 3 continents as a U.S. diplomat (U.S. Foreign Service, 2007-2015) in Europe, the Caribbean, and Asia. I hold an MPA from Princeton and am an expert in EEO legal history, EEO political history, and the data of the U.S. Equal Employment & Opportunity Commission, social psychology, and the diversity management.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

As a former diplomat, I work well with new acquaintances and colleagues in challenging work contexts. I have experience helping large committees to forge consensus at the United Nations, inside the U.S. federal government, and in bilateral negotiations abroad. After years overseas in public service, I want to continue to serve in here at home. I bring a deep intellectual interest in personnel management and cross-cultural management in the workplace.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. With this in mind, what steps would you take to effectively exercise this specific board or commission role? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

If appointed to the Personnel Board, I will take the following three steps to ensure that I am an asset to this commission. First, I will read my briefs to ensure that I am prepared for each engagement that involves the career of a fellow citizen. Second, I will distill my understandings of the case facts into 2-page memorandum (that was the maximum page limit for even complex issues in memoranda to the U.S. Secretary of State). Third, I will make recommendations to City Council using well-hewn logic and City statutes - the logic exposed to rigorous evaluation by Personnel Board colleagues.

I am experienced in the work of advice-giving-by-committee. The first step is to forge consensus at least on the facts as understood and found credible by the Board. The next step is to convey these understandings, with tractable recommendations, to busy public officials. Luckily, I have done just this for the past 10 years to audiences such as the Chief of Staff of the U.S. Department of State, the U.S. Haiti Special Coordinator, the U.S. Ambassador to Cyprus, the U.S. Consul-General to Hong Kong, and a Secretary of State.

10. Education: List college degrees and majors, and any relevant training or experience that demonstrates your ability to effectively serve on this board or commission. If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

2016 - Present: PhD Student, University of Colorado Boulder - Management & Human Resources

2005 - 2007: MPA, Princeton University - Public & International Affairs

2001- 2005: BA, Stanford University - International Relations (Economics minor)

11. Briefly describe your current or last occupation.

I am currently a PhD student in management (dissertation phase). Most recently, I was a U.S. diplomat (Foreign Service Officer) from 2007-2015 with assignments to China, Haiti, Cyprus, and the headquarters team for the U.S. Secretary of State.

12. Have you attended a City Council, board or commission meeting? If so, please describe what you learned and what improvements you would suggest the City consider.

7. What motivated you to apply for this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I recently moved to Sunnyvale from Palo Alto where I watched the evolution of that City's policy on the preservation of residences and other other buildings designed by Joseph Eichler in the 1950's thru the 1970's. The residents of Palo Alto pushed the City to view these properties through a different lens; they are not as old as some of the buildings in old Palo Alto, nor are they tied to the history of Leland Stanford and the university he created. However, these buildings are part an important chapter in the region's history and are deserving of protection. The success of this grassroots effort inspires me to apply for the City of Sunnyvale's Historic Preservation Commission.

Sunnyvale is a diverse community with people who come from different areas of the country as well as different regions of the globe. As was happening in Palo Alto, new construction is changing the character of our neighborhoods. A sense of shared history establishes a common connection among residents and helps build community. By participating on the Historic Preservation Commission, I hope to do my part to tell Sunnyvale's unique story and share it with its residents.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

Although I am not currently practicing law in California, I am a lawyer by training having practiced law in both Florida and Illinois. I am currently the Risk Manager for a community college district in San Jose. As a lawyer, I am trained to read and analyze how certain laws and regulations apply to a set of facts. In my current position with the District, I read and analyze Board policies and procedures and determine if and how they apply to the situation at hand. I am able to explain to the District's senior administrators and its Board of Trustees the legal issues and processes at hand, and provide them with a recommended course of action. My legal background would benefit the Commission in its' decision-making process.

I am also passionate about history. I love to learn about a local area's history and particularly enjoy walks in historic neighborhoods where the architecture is on display. I have discovered Kevin Starr's books on California history and have become an informal student of the Bay Area's rich history. I am excited for the opportunity to serve on the Historic Preservation Commission and share my passion for history with the Sunnyvale community.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. With this in mind, what steps would you take to effectively exercise this specific board or commission role? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

As discussed above, my experience as a lawyer will be effective in providing advice to the City Council. Specifically, I am accustomed to weighing competing interests and needs of affected parties, as well as larger interests such as a distinct groups of people or a community as a whole.

There will be ever increasing demand on the City to remove historical buildings and replace them with new and more dense development to provide needed housing, office space and public spaces. The Historic Preservation Commission must help the City Council determine whether the interest in preserving any given structure outweighs the competing interest to develop or redevelop the parcel. Criteria will need to be applied to determine the historic value of the property. Yet, beyond that straightforward analysis I am interested in looking for ways to integrate historic properties within new development when feasible. Such opportunities will help build a sense of history in the community by recognizing the old without ignoring the legitimate needs of the community.

10. Education: List college degrees and majors, and any relevant training or experience that demonstrates your ability to effectively serve on this board or commission. If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTIONNAIRE

Note: Please respond only to questions that pertain to your selected board(s) or commission(s).

Arts Commission

1. In what ways could the City strengthen art programs in the community?

n/a

Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Commission

2. Like many cities in Santa Clara County, Sunnyvale is faced with problems stemming from traffic congestion and air pollution. Suggest ways the City can improve facilities for bicyclists and improve bicycling education and safety programs for motorists, cyclists and pedestrians?

n/a

Board of Building Code Appeals

3. What do you think can be done to assure that the City of Sunnyvale building development standards are consistently applied?

n/a

Board of Library Trustees

4. Community demographics and technology are constantly changing. What do you think are the principal issues the Sunnyvale Public Library may be addressing over the next few years?

Heritage Preservation Commission

5. What historical features or structures in our community do you think are at risk? What course can the City take to preserve them?

Sadly, all structures from the mid-20th century and earlier are at risk in Silicon Valley. The appetite for new housing is voracious and the population incredibly dense. Some of our landmarks have received the recognition that saved them from demolition--the Libby Water Tower, Joseph Hendy Ironworks, and Hangar 1 at Moffett Field. Yet, there are more modest structures that I drive by each day that have caught my interest. Some of these are the Wittel Inn on Murphy Avenue, a wonderful example of 1930's housekeeping cottages; a sweet set of housekeeping cottages on California Avenue where I exit from the Central Expressway; and, Vito's Pizza on Reed Avenue--the former Ice Palace where Olympian Brian Boitano once practiced. Each of these tell a chapter in Sunnyvale's story.

The City should promote the properties it selects for preservation by publicizing its efforts through plaques describing their historical significance, and by partnering with local historical societies to develop docent led neighborhood history walks and other living history programming. The goal should not only be saving the building or site, but also sharing the building or site--and its' story--with as many Sunnyvale residents as possible.

6. What factors would influence your recommendation to preserve a particular building or site?

Many attributes of a site or structure should be considered when recommending preservation. The historical significance of a structure or a location may be based upon events that occurred there or significant historical figures that are associated with the location. With respect to buildings, the decision to preserve may be based on the fact that it is built in a style representative of a particular region and time; it was designed by a notable architect or architectural design firm; it contains a feature typical to a particular era or style of construction; or, it is constructed of certain materials unique to a location or era.

7. What motivated you to apply for this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I was an English major from UCLA, and working in the financial industry, I wanted a means to connect with my passion and inner soul as a writer. I believe the humanities has a place in not only inspiring those of the forefront of future generations with novel ideas, but also in cultivating higher means of acceptance and understanding.

The powerful thing about art and stories is their capacity to move and convey thoughts that transcend space and time. This is how William Blake in his poetry encapsulates art, with poems that burn through paper- of how Edvard Munch illustrates despair in "The Scream". Living in Sunnyvale, it almost is an invitation to the romantic and the pastoral in comparison to my time in Los Angeles. It is only here in the tempered nature that Alexander Pope would find freedom in form, where Wordsworth and Clare would muse of the birds in the trees.

I seek to be a part of this exchange, as a writer, curator and inspiration to Sunnyvale's community.

8. What skills or attributes can you bring to this board or commission? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I write eloquently with a passion and have an analytical mindset in noticing the minute details in art. This allows individuals to not only view art as a frivolous pastime but one that cultivates personal development and attunement to the inner soul.

It is only through art that one can commingle their souls in air and angels with poets and painters of the past.

9. The primary role of a board or commission member is to provide advice to City Council on policy issues that are within the scope of that board or commission. With this in mind, what steps would you take to effectively exercise this specific board or commission role? If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

I would with due diligence, perform research and heuristically substantiate why I made such choices in artwork. I hope to aid Sunnyvale with fundraising, networking, and learning whatever I can from my predecessors to adequately fulfill this role.

10. Education: List college degrees and majors, and any relevant training or experience that demonstrates your ability to effectively serve on this board or commission. If you are applying for more than one, please reference the specific board or commission in your response(s).

UCLA: English Major and Neuroscience Focus

11. Briefly describe your current or last occupation.

I was a freelance blogger and clinical researcher at UCLA. I was the lead technical writer and researcher for the Glaucoma Beverly Hills Institute for the excimer laser, and connected with elderly patients on an emotional level in regards to their interests and cultural activities.

12. Have you attended a City Council, board or commission meeting? If so, please describe what you learned and what improvements you would suggest the City consider.

I have attended various entrepreneur conferences, but not an official city council meeting. During college, I was the executive co-sponsorship director for UCLA's Fashion and Student Trends, a UC-wide fashion show initiative across all California campuses. During high school, I was nominated by Chairwoman Judy Chu of the 27th district as the Battalion Commander of the LAUSD district for JROTC. I believe that while I do not have official experience, I will be dutiful in my role.

13. Describe your involvement in community activities, volunteer and civic organizations.

SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTIONNAIRE

Note: Please respond only to questions that pertain to your selected board(s) or commission(s).

Arts Commission

1. In what ways could the City strengthen art programs in the community?

The city should network and connect with business owners, CEOs, and centers of interests in holding art awareness events. It should also fundraise, and aid local organizations and churches in emphasizing how certain arts reflect ideologies of a particular period.

Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Commission

2. Like many cities in Santa Clara County, Sunnyvale is faced with problems stemming from traffic congestion and air pollution. Suggest ways the City can improve facilities for bicyclists and improve bicycling education and safety programs for motorists, cyclists and pedestrians?

I believe holding education programs and appeals to law in regards to vehicle emissions, curating content and promoting how both the environment and cyclist health should be a prime concern.

Board of Building Code Appeals

3. What do you think can be done to assure that the City of Sunnyvale building development standards are consistently applied?

Having a chair surveying and employing one knowledgeable about building developments in regards to gentrification issues is a must.

Board of Library Trustees

4. Community demographics and technology are constantly changing. What do you think are the principal issues the Sunnyvale Public Library may be addressing over the next few years?

We live in an era where attention spans are decreasing, where the emphasis on education is lacking- but perhaps it is because our culture and society is changing as it is shaped by a new wave of fast-paced Gen-zers and entrepreneurs. The library adamantly provides new resources, books, and promoting a safe space where learning is facilitated and should have means to allow individuals to cultivate their passion.

Heritage Preservation Commission

5. What historical features or structures in our community do you think are at risk? What course can the City take to preserve them?

I have not been in Sunnyvale long enough to state for certain, but I have family in Los Gatos that often speak of how major corporate players destroy the boutique and authentic feel of their town. In Los Angeles Japan Towns and China Towns are cultural spaces of immigration and in a way, that community should be preserved.

6. What factors would influence your recommendation to preserve a particular building or site?

The demographics, its historical significance, and most of all the current community value within it, if we collectively see together that this is something that will be of significance for future generations and outlasts the test of time.

Housing and Human Services Commission

7. Evaluate the quality and adequacy of the housing programs that serve the Sunnyvale community.

The housing programs should focus on rent and affordability; due to the high demand, many individuals within Sunnyvale are engineers, and some with families are evinced to commute longer to work as they cannot afford to live within its financial stipulations.

8. Evaluate the quality and availability of the human services programs that serve the Sunnyvale community.

Sunnyvale has programs that aid in housing and preventing homelessness, various nutrition programs, and cultural networks. The main issue perhaps is not necessarily the existence or availability but education on them; I had to do a search myself to answer this question!

Park and Recreation Commission

9. Community demographics are constantly changing. What do you think are the principal issues this Commission may be addressing over the next few years?

As younger generations transplant to Sunnyvale, it will be vital to proliferating technology to ease this transition. New parking structures with EV charging stations, new means of incorporation of technology in education and art may be vital to attracting and retaining this demographic.

Planning Commission:

12. Sunnyvale has limited vacant land for new development. This could increase pressure for redevelopment of existing developed areas. How can planning respond to this situation?

Planning may help individuals find housing before gentrification occurs. The emphasis should not only be building the city, but being assistance to the people it shelters and serves as a home to.

Planning also decreases mistakes- in any structural reorganization, adequate planning not only reduces time, but reduces future errors to occur.

13. Planning Commissioners are often asked to consider social, economic and environmental issues when reviewing proposals. How does one achieve a balanced community?

Everyone should have a say in what they believe is sustainable, and we should maximize social media networking to not only share content and edify the diverse purview of views, but to select the one that makes sense to most of the community. We should edify sustainable groups and ngos that aid in this process. The negative capability of thought, and employing the most utilitarian means can be of service; answers should be balanced in themselves and not beneficiary to only one player or group.

Sustainability Commission:

14. Sustainability is a new and emerging issue in many communities. What do you think are the primary sustainability policy issues this commission will be addressing over the next few years?

Redefining waste, focusing on environment education as part of high school curriculum, and making more cognizant and green through partnership with brands and curating talk shows, youtube, cycling spins, runs, art exhibitions etc. to raise awareness.

15. Sustainability Commissioners will need to consider social, economic and environmental issues when addressing sustainability policy issues. How does one achieve a balanced community?

Please see question (13).
