6.06.010. Dangerous or diseased animals – Generally.

(a) It is unlawful for any person owning or having charge of any dangerous animal to permit such animal to remain within the city unless and until such person has obtained a dangerous animal permit.

(b) It is unlawful for any person owning or having charge of any animal that is infected with any disease which may be transmitted to humans or which constitutes a public health hazard to permit such animal to remain within the city other than at an approved veterinary hospital, unless the animal control officer or administrator approves an alternate means of confinement. The animal control officer or administrator is hereby empowered to impound and destroy any animal not kept in compliance with this section.

(c) The animal control officer shall be empowered to seize any animal the officer reasonably believes to be infected with a disease transmittable to humans or dangerous or to have bitten any person. The animal control officer shall quarantine such animal in the animal shelter long enough to investigate, observe, examine, and determine whether it is diseased or dangerous so as to be a threat to public health, or safety.

(d) In the alternative, the animal control officer may require the owner or custodian to quarantine such animal in an approved enclosure upon the owner or custodian's property, or at an approved kennel, animal shelter, or veterinary facility during such time that a determination is being made.

(e) Seizure, impound, and disposition of diseased or dangerous animals is subject to the notice and hearing procedures in this chapter.

(a) Any animal demonstrating conduct which fits that described under Section 6.01.010(o) or which is suspected of being infected with any disease which may be transmitted to humans shall be impounded by or surrendered to the animal control officer or administrator, or quarantined upon the owner or custodian's property in an approved enclosure, as directed by the animal control officer.

(b) A determination as to whether or not such dangerous or diseased animal poses a threat to the public health and safety shall be made by the animal control officer. Upon such determination, the animal control officer may take no further action against the animal and its owner; may issue a formal warning notice; may require that the animal be permanently removed from the city; may decide that the owner will lose all rights of ownership and control of the animal; may require that the animal owner secure a permit to keep such animal; or may order the animal destroyed. The animal control officer shall notify the owner in writing of this determination and the owner's right to appeal.

(c) Any owner of an animal who is dissatisfied with the determination made by the animal control officer may appeal such determination in writing, within seventy-two (72) hours, to the administrator. Upon receipt of such request, the administrator shall conduct a hearing to determine if the animal is dangerous, as defined, and/or poses a threat to public health and safety. If the animal has been surrendered to or impounded by the animal control officer or administrator, the hearing shall be held within ten (10) days, not including weekends or holidays, after receipt of the request. Where the animal has not been surrendered to or impounded by the animal control officer or administrator, the administrator shall promptly set a time and place for the hearing and shall cause notice of the hearing to be deposited in the mail or hand delivered to the owner at least five (5) days before the date of the hearing.

(d) At the hearing, the owner may be represented by counsel, may present oral and written evidence, and may cross-examine witnesses. Strict rules of evidence shall not apply. Any relevant evidence may be admitted if it is of a type upon which reasonable persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious affairs. The decision of the hearing officer must be supported by the weight of the evidence and shall be final.

(e) On the basis of evidence produced at the hearing, the hearing officer may take no further action against the animal and its owner; may require that the animal be permanently removed from the city; may decide that the owner will lose all rights of ownership and control of the animal; may require that the animal owner secure a permit to keep such animal; or may order the animal destroyed. The hearing officer shall give written notice to the owner and to the city of the decision within fifteen (15) days of the hearing. Service of the decision may be served either personally or by first-class mail, postage prepaid.

(f) The owner has five (5) business days upon service of the hearing officer's decision to appeal the decision to the Santa Clara County Superior Court pursuant to Food and Agriculture Code Section 31622, as may be amended from time to time. The hearing officer's decision will be deemed final if no appeal is filed on or before the expiration of the appeal period. The owner must also provide notice of the appeal to the administrator within five (5) business days upon service of the hearing officer's decision.

6.06.030. Permit for dangerous animal.

(a) It is unlawful for any person to keep, have, maintain, sell, or trade any dangerous animal within the city without first obtaining a permit from the administrator. Such permit may be valid for up to twelve (12) months from the date of issuance and must be renewed at the end of the calendar year in which the permit is issued for so long as the dangerous animal remains within the city limits.

(b) No permit shall be required of any zoo, university, college, governmental research agency, or other bona fide scientific institution, as determined by the administrator, engaging in scientific or public health research.

(c) All dangerous animal permits shall be issued in accordance with requirements, regulations, terms, and conditions approved by the administrator as they currently exist or as amended from time to time.

(d) Failure to comply with the requirements, regulations, terms and conditions of a permit may be grounds for revocation of the permit.

(e) In the event a permit is revoked by the administrator, the owner is entitled to an appeal hearing as prescribed in subsections (c) and (d) of Section 6.06.020.

(f) Fees for obtaining the permit required by this section shall be established as set forth in a resolution adopted by the city council.

6.06.040. Requirements for control of dangerous animals.

An owner or custodian of an animal deemed dangerous shall comply with the following requirements:

(a) Confinement, generally. The owner shall confine the dangerous animal within a building or secure enclosure, as further described in this chapter and subject to the exceptions described in this chapter.

(b) Muzzle and leash. A dangerous animal may be permitted off the premises only if it is securely muzzled and leashed on a non-retractable leash not to exceed four (4) feet in length and under the control of a person eighteen (18) years of age or older, and who is physically capable of restraining the animal. Said leash must be capable of restraining four (4) times the weight of the animal. For dangerous animals, the leash must be attached to an escape-proof commercial quality walking harness which fastens securely across the shoulders and mid-chest encompassing the rib area and upper abdomen of the dog. No collar of any type or material will be sufficient to satisfy the above requirements. Dangerous animals shall not be leashed or tethered at any time to inanimate objects such as trees, posts, or buildings. The muzzling device for dangerous dogs must be constructed so that it is impossible for the dog to remove it without human assistance.

(c) Signage. In addition to subsection (a) above, a sign advising of the presence of a dangerous animal shall be posted at the entrance to every place wherein any such dangerous animal is confined. The sign shall be approved by the animal control officer and capable of being understood by a child.

(d) Transportation. Transportation of dangerous animals shall only be in locked animal carriers equivalent in construction quality to those used by commercial air carriers. No dangerous animal shall be left unconfined nor unattended in or about any motor vehicle.

(e) Confinement standards. Dangerous animals shall be kept securely confined indoors or in a securely enclosed escape-proof locked kennel or pen other than when on a leash as provided in Section 6.06.040(b).

(1) Dangerous animals kept indoors in a house, apartment, building or similar structure shall be allowed only where the windows and doors of said structure are secured to prevent any such animal from exiting without the assistance of the owner or custodian.

(2) Dangerous animals kept outdoors shall be confined in a kennel, pen or structure that must have secure sides and a secure top attached thereto. The kennel or pen shall be constructed in a manner so that it cannot be broken down by any action of the confined animal. All structures used for confinement of dangerous animals must be locked with a key or combination lock of sufficient strength to ensure confinement of said animals. Such structures must be erected upon a secure bottom or floor constructed of concrete or other material sufficient to prevent the animal from digging free. Sides of the structure shall be imbedded not less than two (2) feet into the ground behind a solid fence not less than six (6) feet in height.

(f) Insurance. The owner shall maintain a public liability insurance policy from an insurer licensed to practice in the state of California, in a single incident amount of not less than three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) plus five thousand dollars ($5,000) for no-fault medical payments for each dangerous animal, for injury to or death of any person or persons, or loss or damage to any property, caused by or resulting from any act of such animal. The public liability insurance amount can be satisfied with one single policy or a combination of policies wherein the primary policy is either a homeowners, renters, or animal liability policy and the secondary policy is an umbrella policy, excess policy, or both. The owner shall provide written notice to the administrator of any cancellation or material change in the insurance within five (5) days of receipt of notice from the insurer. In case of such a cancellation or material change, the owner, at the time of the written notice to the administrator, shall also provide the administrator a written assurance stating that the person will obtain other insurance to meet the requirement of this section. If no alternate insurance can be obtained before the previous insurance policy lapses, the owner must remove the animal from the city, or otherwise dispose of the dog in a manner prescribed by law. The owner shall notify the administrator of the removal or disposition of the animal due to lapsed insurance.

(g) Notification. The owner or custodian of a dangerous animal shall notify the administrator prior to moving, selling, transferring, or otherwise disposing of the animal, or when the dangerous animal is at large, has committed an attack or act of aggression on any person or animal, or has died.

(h) The owner shall adhere to all other requirements reasonably established by the animal control officer or administrator to ensure the health, safety and welfare of the public.

6.06.050. Dangerous animals at large.

It is unlawful for an owner or custodian of any animal known by such person to be dangerous to cause or permit the animal to run loose about the person's premises in a manner endangering any person lawfully entering such premises, or cause or permit the animal to be unrestrained upon or about any public street, sidewalk, park, schoolyard, or private property of other persons.

For purposes of this section, lawful entry to a premises includes but is not limited to entry made by a person in the performance of any duty imposed upon that person by the laws of this state or any city or county or by the laws or postal regulations of the United States, or when that person is on such property by reason of accident beyond control, or disaster, or by invitation either expressed or implied.

6.06.060. Civil right of action.

(a) A civil action for damages against the owner or custodian of a dangerous animal which bites any person or animal on either private or public property may be instituted by the victim of such bite. Damages shall include actual damages, costs, attorneys' fees and a civil penalty of five thousand dollars ($5,000) in addition thereto. The court also may award punitive damages in a proper case. Nothing in this provision shall be construed to limit any other right or remedy otherwise available in law or equity to any party, nor shall this section in any way limit the city's right to enforcement under Chapter 1.04 of this code.

(b) In the case of a bite by an animal, the court, in determining punitive damages, shall take into consideration whether the animal was or should have been licensed and properly maintained as a dangerous animal pursuant to this chapter.

(c) This section shall not apply to dog bites inflicted by police dogs owned or maintained by the department of public safety.

6.06.070. Exhibit of animal on demand.

Upon demand by an animal control officer or administrator, the owner or custodian shall exhibit such animal and its license if required by this title.

Every person within the city who owns, conducts, manages or operates any animal establishment for which a permit is required by this title shall comply with all of the following conditions:

(i) All animal establishments must include a properly installed and permitted hot and cold running water system which is connected to sanitary sewer facilities.

6.07.050. Permit—Renewal.

As a condition to issuance or renewal of a permit under this chapter, the animal control officer shall have authority to enter upon any area or premises in which an animal establishment is located, at any reasonable time, for the purpose of inspection and enforcement of this chapter. The failure of the operator to consent to entry is grounds for revocation of the permit.

6.07.070. Denial or revocation of permit.

(a) The administrator may deny, suspend or revoke any permit issued pursuant to this chapter in the following situations:

(1) Whenever it is determined from an inspection that any animal establishment fails to meet all the required conditions of this chapter or applicable state law;

(2) Where there is reason to believe the applicant or permit holder willfully withheld or falsified any information to obtain a permit; or

(3) If the applicant or permit holder has been convicted by a court of law of more than two (2) violations of this chapter in a twelve (12) month period, or any state law relating to animals or public nuisance caused by animals, or has been convicted of cruelty to animals within the previous five (5) years.

(b) Any revocation of a permit shall be effective until all conditions have been met to the satisfaction of the administrator and written notice of completion of all conditions has been given to the permittee. Upon receipt of such notice the permit shall be deemed valid for the remainder of the original term for which issued.

(c) No hive shall be kept or maintained on any parcel or lot between the line of the front face of the main building extended and the street adjoining the front yard as defined in Title 19, unless such hive is located not closer than one hundred

(100) feet from the edge of the street right-of-way.

(d) All hives shall be oriented so that the entrance faces the house or building occupied by the person maintaining the hives, and shall be surrounded by a solid fence not less than six (6) feet in height, located no farther than thirty (30) feet from such hives. (e) A constant water supply adequate to the needs of all hives located on the premises shall be maintained on those premises.

6.08.020. Exception.

The city council finds that the maintenance of beehives within the city not in compliance with the regulations contained in Section 6.08.010 constitutes a public nuisance. Therefore, the requirements of Section 6.08.010(b) shall not be applicable if the person desiring to maintain the hive or hives shall file with the administrator written consent of the owners or adult occupants of the adjoining properties and/or dwelling units from which the distance limitations contained in Section 6.08.010(b) are to be measured. Consent by any such owner or occupant shall be deemed irrevocable for the period of two years after it is executed, and may be revoked by the grantor or successor resident after such period, following at least ninety (90) days written notice, filed with the administrator.

6.08.030. Applicability of zoning requirements.

Nothing contained in this chapter shall be deemed to authorize any agricultural or similar use not otherwise permitted under the provisions of Title 19.

6.08.040. Applicability of general provisions.

Nothing contained in this chapter shall be deemed to invalidate or supersede the provisions of Section 6.02.040(c) or any other provision of the Sunnyvale Municipal Code. Compliance with the provisions of this chapter shall not prevent enforcement of Section 6.02.040(c) or any other applicable provisions of the Sunnyvale Municipal Code.

Small animals must be provided the opportunity to exercise in order to maintain normal muscle tone and mass for the age, size, and condition of the animal.

6.09.070. Confinement requirement—Homing pigeon exception.

(a) The owner or custodian must keep the premises where the small animals are maintained fenced to prevent such animal from straying or running at large upon any public street or other public place, or upon any private place or property or common area of any planned development, cluster, townhouse, or condominium project without the consent of the owner or person in control thereof.

(b) If the small animal is a homing pigeon, the homing pigeon must be confined to the enclosure or structure and may only be released for exercise, training or competition if the homing pigeon is fitted with a leg band which contains a serial number issued by a pigeon registry and the homing pigeon does not perch or otherwise linger on the building or property of another without their consent.

6.09.080. Enclosure, shelter and shading requirements.

Any small animal maintained outdoors must have adequate shade and shelter such that the animal can protect itself from the elements. Such enclosure, shelter or shading must be:

- (a) Accessible to the animal at all times;
- (b) Situated to prevent exposing the animal to unreasonably loud noise or teasing, abuse, or injury by another animal or person;
- (c) Of adequate size, inside and outside the enclosure or shelter to allow the animal to stand up, sit, turn around freely, or lie down in a normal position, defecate or urinate away from its confinement, and safely interact with any other animal;
- (d) Adequately lighted to provide regular diurnal lighting cycles of natural or artificial light uniformly diffused throughout the shelter, and sufficient illumination for routine inspections and maintenance of the animal; and
- (e) Supplied with clean and dry bedding material or other means of protection from the weather elements to maintain the shelter at a temperature that is not harmful to the health of the animal.

6.09.090. Sanitary enclosure and shelter requirement.

(a) All premises, enclosures, and shelters used or intended to be used for the keeping or housing of small animal must be cleaned and maintained in a manner designed to ensure sanitary conditions and to control for insects, ectoparasites, and other pests.

(b) Carcasses, debris, food waste, excreta, and other like material must be removed from the premises, enclosure, or shelter used or intended to be used for the keeping or housing of small animals as often as necessary to minimize unreasonably obnoxious odor, allergen, pests, and the risk of disease.

(c) The floor of any premises, enclosure, or shelter for the use of small animals must be smooth and tight to prevent the accumulation of water, debris, refuse, manure, excreta, or like material, and the harboring of vermin and wild animals. A wire floor may be used if appropriate for the type of small animal and is maintained to prevent injury to the animal.

6.09.100. Refuse container requirement.

Any debris, refuse, manure, excreta, or other like material conducive to the breeding of flies or that creates a reasonably obnoxious odor must be placed in a fly-proof container until the material is removed from the premises or buried under the soil surface as fertilizer.

6.09.110. Transportation requirement.

Small animals must be handled, moved, or shipped in a manner consistent with Section 6.02.030 to ensure the health and safety of the animal.

(d) At the hearing, both the applicant or permit holder and staff shall have the right to appear and be represented by counsel, and to present evidence and arguments which are relevant to the grounds stated in the filing of the appeal. The applicant or holder may appear in person or by submitting written material. A non-appearance or failure to submit written material shall result in a vacation of the appeal.

(e) Within ten (10) calendar days of the hearing, the hearing officer shall issue a written decision which states whether the initial denial, suspension or revocation will be upheld, modified or reversed. The decision shall be mailed to the appellant, postage prepaid. The decision of the hearing officer shall be final.
