

Summary of DSP Design Guidelines Changes

Current DSP Design Guidelines	Proposed DSP Design Guidelines
General Design Guidelines	Section 6.2 – General Guidelines
A. Site Design and Organization	A. Site Layout and Design
B. Architecture and Design Details	B. Building Form and Articulation
(Street Edge) Setbacks	Roofs
Building Facades	C. Architectural Character and Details
Roofs	Windows
Windows	Building Materials
Building Materials and colors	Colors
E. Parking Structures	D. Parking lots and structure
D. Signage	E. Signage
C. Landscaping and Open Space	F. Open Space and Landscaping
Site Landscaping	Plazas
Parking Lot Landscaping	(Included in other sections)
no equivalent	Gateway Features
Open Space	Usable Private Open Space
no equivalent	G. Streetscape (including general roadway designs)
no equivalent	Streetscape by roadway type
no equivalent	Streetscape furnishings
no equivalent	Street lighting
F. Service Facilities and Mechanical Equipment	H. Service Facilities and Mechanical Equipment
G. Lighting	(Included in other sections)
-	Section 6.3 – Building Type-Specific Guidelines
no equivalent	A. Low Rise Residential
no equivalent	B. Mid to High Rise Residential
no equivalent	C. Office
no equivalent	D. Ground Floor Retail in Mixed Use Buildings
-	Section 6.4 – Commercial Core Guidelines
no equivalent	A. Site Layout and Design
no equivalent	B. Architecture and Massing
no equivalent	C. Parking
no equivalent	D. Parks and Plazas