SUBJECT

Annual Review of the City Code of Ethics and Conduct

As stated within the attached Sunnyvale Code of Ethics and Conduct, the Code is intended to be largely self-enforced, and it is believed to be most effective when members are thoroughly familiar with it and embrace its provisions.

For this reason, the Code is reviewed annually by City Council and all City boards and commissions. This review gives commissioners an opportunity to ask for clarification of any of its contents, if necessary, or to make recommendations regarding the Code, if they have any suggestions for updates or improvements.

The City Council considers all recommendations from boards and commissions and updates the document as necessary. It was last reviewed by Council on March 28, 2017.
